

WANT TO ENHANCE YOUR FUTURE JOB OPPORTUNITIES?

APPLICATIONS OPEN FOR STUDENT HEALTH PROMOTION VOLUNTEERS

The Western Australian Centre for Health Promotion Research (WACHPR) has developed a program called Volunteering in Health Promotion (VIHP) for Curtin health promotion students to develop their research skills.

VIHP participants will be given the opportunity to undertake volunteer work at the WACHPR providing support on research projects. Opportunities are generally short term working with an individual researcher.

Through participating in VIHP you will:

- gain new multidisciplinary research and job skills
- have the opportunity to network and meet new people
- enhance your future job opportunities
- may lead to ongoing paid work at the WACHPR

APPLY NOW

Fill out the application form located on the health promotion students information and networking page on Blackboard, under the WACHPR opportunities tab. Email your application form and CV to wachpr@curtin.edu.au
Applications close August 15, 2014.

